MAXWELL HAS WONDERFUL FAIR

Many Fine Exhibits Shown In the Keenest of Competition.

Despite almost impassable roads, the people of Maxwell and vicinity put on one of the best township fairs so far held. The number of exhibits was 135 and in many cases the competition was keen. Two schools, viz: Summers Chapel, where Miss Flora Summers and Miss Cleo Norman are employed, and Maxwell, where Prof. Raymond Hughes and Misses Enid Holloway and Janilou Norman are the teachers, had a well arranged and a splendid exhibit of school work. The club work shown by the schools was also of a high order.

The livestock exhibit was good and measured up well to the other fairs held. The exhibit of Mr. E. W. Cotton was unusually fine. Mr. Cotton is the president of the county fair association and has visited every fair so far held. He is deeply interested in their success and has done excellent work towards their success. The fair at Maxwell was in his township and those who have had a part in aiding in their success expected to find at Maxwell a good display and a splendid crowd. We have all learned that Mr. Cotton's enthusiasm is contagious.

Miss Anna Weaver Jones of the East Central faculty aided in judging the exhibits and placing of the blue ribbons.

One of the most unique exhibits so far displayed was that of Wm. Anderson, a colored man and cook for the family of Mr. Cotton. It was a hand crocheted bag and also a scarf. The work was done by the colored man and was one of the finest pieces of work exhibited. This colored man has lived with the Cotton family during nearly all his life, being now about 75 years old. He was formerly a slave in the Cotton family and has continued to remain faithful to them. The work was done at odd times and exhibited taste and accuracy to a high degree. "Uncle Billy," as the colored man is familiarly known, is also skilled in the culinary art as can be attested by the hungry seven who bore down on "Uncle Billy" Thursday noon and thoroughly enjoyed his splendid luncheon.

All the teachers who had work on display have received their instruction at the East Central Normal. They are giving excellent service to their communities, and their work is fully appreciated by the patrons. The display of corn did not equal Roff or Allen. The club boys' work was very apparent, being along lines to better the yield and make a better and more uniform growth. The exhibit of canned fruit was also fine. At Maxwell was seen the first peaches exhibited.

Too much praise cannot be given Mr. Cotton and Professor Hughes for their earnest and faithful work. The people of Maxwell are also interested in the county fair and a large exhibit will be sent from there.

STRIKE TROUBLE IN ITALY NOW NEAR SOLUTION

By the Associated Press
ROME, Sept. 10.—Belief exists in political circles that an agreement, which will end the conflict between Italian metal workers and their employers, which resulted in the occupation of more than 400 plants by the men during the last week, is imminent.

It is pointed out that Premier Gillett must leave on Saturday for Aix-les-Bains, where he will meet Premier Millerand of France and that he could not go if the situation in Italy was not cleared up.

NEW YORK CITY, Sept. 10.—Unfilled orders held by the United States steel corporation in the month ending August 31, amounted to 10,895,000 tons, against 11,118,468 tons in the month ending July 31.

SACRAMENTO.—"Candy cooks is scarce," pleaded C. H. Lee's boss to the judge. In view of the scarcity, the judge turned Lee loose after a night in the house of correction by the too liberal use of jack-ass brandy.

WEATHER

The weather man's report for tonight and Saturday is generally fair weather.

A. H. Constant Is An Old Timer in This Neck of the Woods

Twenty years ago Al Constant came to Ada from Pauls Valley and accepted a position as deputy U. S. clerk.

In 1908 he was connected with the building and laying off of the townsite of this city. And he remembered that he was very instrumental in bringing about the success of the sale of property. In this work it is said that he made a good profit.

Later he entered the abstract business and today has one of the largest title offices in this section. He is associated with B. H. Epperson, J. C. Deaver and his son, H. W. Constant. This body is known as the Home Title Guaranty company and are incorporated for $15,000.

Mr. Constant has many friends in this city and is known to his business associates as a man of honesty and integrity and a person who does big things. The country would be much better today if it had more men like Mr. Constant.

THE SLUSH FUND PROBE PROCEEDS

Senate Committee Examine Many Witnesses at Chicago.

By the Associated Press
CHICAGO, Sept. 10.—Fred W. Upham told the senate committee investigating campaign funds that he took full responsibility for the proposal to raise the limit of republican campaign contributions to ten thousand from one thousand.

"I was voted down by a large majority at a meeting in New York," he said.

Form 101, the so called "Blair Plan," was brought about by his advocacy of a larger contribution limit and was prepared after he had told Harry M. Blair, his assistant, that he believed that the ten thousand figure would be adopted after the national convention had ended.

"Two days later," continued Upham, "Colonel Thompson went to Washington and saw Senator Harding and the candidate gave out a statement that he had instructed the republican national committee not to accept contributions for more than one thousand dollars each."

Upham said he did not write form 101 and that it contained some expressions and ideas which he would not have approved, but form 101 was and is dead, he added. "Furthermore, the substitute form 102 was not presented at a union league club, in Chicago, as I was there throughout that convention."

"I never saw a quota list for cities or any other quota list except for states, prepared in my office," said Upham.

"You assume the responsibility for the song singers?" asked Senator Palmerline.

"I do, and I am proud of the work of my ex-Y. M. C. A. campaigners," said Upham. "I believe that on showing of results as a business man, I could get the job of raising the democrat campaign fund, and when they reorganize their finances I think they will adopt my system."

Charles Dosschenstein, democrat campaign national committee man for Illinois, said there was no fund raising organization on his party in that state.

The witness was asked about letters sent to Joseph Hoffman, the Augusta, Illinois, postmaster and given to the committee yesterday, with the envelope stamped, "deliver at home address only," was shown him and he said he frequently used that stamp to call attention to the letter. He said the practice was not confirmed to federal officials.

"It is not true that you are trying to get funds from federal officers in Illinois," queried Senator Kenyon.

"Positively not," said Mr. Dosschenstein.

"How then do you get your money," asked the Iowa senator.

"I don't know, we manage to get by and pay our rent," said the witness.

Summarizing all this budget and quota business into what he called a plain business statement, Mr. Upham said that the state quota list of about $4,800,000 made up in his office included both the pre-convention and actual presidential campaign funds.

He then pointed out that more than $1,100,000 of this total had been raised and spent before the present budget of $3,079,000 was made up.

Kenyon called Mr. Moore to the stand and questioned him about the democrat campaign fund plans and particularly help that may have been received from liquor interests.

"Senator Kenyon asked Moore about the association opposed to National prohibition and read a prospective of the organization that

COX STATES THAT SOMEBODY SHOULD BE SENT TO THE PEN

SPOKANE, Wash., Sept. 10.—Governor Cox, of Ohio, democratic nominee for president, discussing denials of campaign fund charges of republican national chairman, Will H. Hays, and others, declared in his speech to a crowd of voters at the union station here today, "that it is time and in order to put a stop to corruption, to send somebody to the penitentiary."

QUITTING WORK IN BODY IS STRIKE, SAYS WILSON

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—The president declared that when a body of men collectively refrained from working by mutual understanding however arrived at, it was a strike, no matter what name was given to it. A majority of the anthracite coal workers had refrained from work under the guise of "taking a vacation." And he told the committee, that while he approved of the earnestness of its efforts to get the men to return to work, he declared his unwillingness to reopen the wage question.

listed Mr. Moore and Rudolf Hunkle, republican national committee man from Ohio as members.

Mr. Moore said he first heard of the association opposed to national prohibition when his attention was called to an interview by Wayne Wheeler, one of the republican heads of the anti-saloon league, a republican organization.

"Mr. Bryan is one of the prominent heads, isn't he?" asked Senator Kenyon.

"No, just a prominent employee," Moore retorted.

"He is democrat though, isn't he?" the chairman protested.

"So I have heard."

CHICAGO, Sept. 10.—From the league prospectus Senator Kenyon read the names of several democrats, including Bainbridge Colby, secretary of state; Bourke Cockran and Joseph W. Bailey of Texas, who were advertised as speakers in the campaign against prohibition.

Mr. Moore said he hoped that the questioning of republican members of the committee was not an attempt to inject a wet and dry issue into the presidential campaign.

"The fact that I am known as a strong anti-prohibitionist is of no more significance than that George White, chairman of the democratic national committee, advocated and voted for prohibition in congress," he said.

The senate committee at the noon recess announced that the investigation of charges made by Governor Cox would be completed here tomorrow and that the committee would then return to meet in some eastern city on September 22.

Paving Again

The News has been making some quiet investigations for the past few weeks and finds that the engineer's estimates for paving in Ada, recently submitted, is as low, and in many cases lower, than in any other city of the state.

Pauls Valley, at this juncture has about four miles of concrete paving down and is going ahead with it at lightning speed. Pauls Valley isn't half as large as Ada. If Pauls Valley can stand it, why can't Ada?

The streets of the city grow continuously worse. They can be repaired temporarily, but temporarily only. In a few years we will spend more money in working the streets than fit would take to pave, and in the end we will be just where we are now.

If this city was paved, when the paving was paid out the city coffers would soon bulge with money and the tax rate could be lowered.

Why not look ahead? Why not use our heads? Why not get in the class of cities in which we belong and quit being the laughing stock of the whole state. The expression "Ada is the best business town in the state, but it has no civic pride," gets old to the man who is proud of the "old home town." But that's what we hear all over.

Won't somebody urge the city commissioners to readvertise for bids on the proposed paving program which was deferred a short time ago for lack of bidders. Bidders can be had now, so we are reliably informed, and it seems that something should be done before it is eerily late.

Mrs. Deal Locates A Missing Brother Through Red Cross

On August 6, 1920, P. H. Deal called at the local Red Cross headquarters and asked if the Red Cross could locate his wife's brother, from whom she had not heard since 1917. The secretary immediately took the matter up with the war department and secured the future address given by the brother at the time of his discharge.

Mrs. Deal was notified of the address on August 27. She wrote to the place and is today in receipt of a letter from her brother in which he tells her how anxious he has been to hear from her.

MUTT & JEFF REST

Many people have asked the News during the past few days if we had discontinued Mut & Jeff. We have not. We wish to state again that Bud Fisher is on his annual vacation for two weeks and as soon as he resumes work the various items will be resumed in the News the same as in all other papers using it.

When we contracted with the Bell Syndicate, handling Mr. Fisher, it was understood that two weeks during the year Mr. Fisher would be on vacation and that there would be no cartoons during that period. All papers are without the service at this time, and just as soon as it is resumed the News will have it.

HARDING BACK FROM SPEAKING TOUR OF 3 DAYS

By the Associated Press
MARION, Sept. 10.—Back from his three day trip in the northwest during which he made speeches in Illinois, Indiana, Wisconsin and summed his schedule today with a list of engagements before him that promise to occupy all of his attention for three or four weeks.

Gen. John J. Pershing, who came from Chicago last night on the Harding train, spent the night at the senator's residence.

Several delegations of negroes came from various parts of the country today to hear the nominee discuss public questions of particular interest to them.

MARION, Ohio, Sept. 10.—In his speech to the negro delegation, which represented several religious and other organizations, the nominee declared that "service was the real measure of citizenship and that too much encouragement had been given the idea of 'something for nothing' government."

"Citizenship," he said, "is not based upon what one can get out, but is based on what one gives. I say, and I wish that I could speak through you to all Americans, 'Let's serve.'"

"The American negro has the good sense to know this truth, has the good sense and brave heart to live and proclaim it to all the world that he has met the test and did and will not fail America, and I proclaim America has and will not fail the American negro."

R. C. Roland Receives Large Bear Hide from Brother in Washington

R. C. Roland is in receipt of a gift in the form of a large black bear hide. It is 9 feet 11 inches long and 4 1/2 feet wide. Prof. E. A. MacMillan has volunteered to make the hide into a rug.

The gift was sent Mr. Roland by his brother, Jim, who lives in South Billingham, Washington. This brother and son, Sherrod, recently made a hunting trip to Alaska and while on this trip killed the bear whose hide is here. It is stated to be the biggest bear that these hunters ever encountered.

Sherrod Roland, the son above mentioned, will be remembered in Ada as a former student of Ada High. He enlisted in the navy in 1917 and was discharged last month.

SAYS SLUSH FUND IS OF NO INTEREST

Prohibition Candidate Says People Don't Care Who Spends Money.

By the Associated Press
HAMLIN, Minn., Sept. 10.—"The country at large will not care thirty cents to find out the exact, or even the approximate, figures of any campaign fund," said Aaron S. Watkins, prohibition candidate for president, in a speech at the Minnesota state fair today.

"It is said by some that all the national elections since the civil war have followed the line of the largest contributions," Watkins continued.

"The fact that the side with the largest campaign fund has usually won may be a case of cause and effect one way or another. It may be true that party which is on its way to victory may usually secure the largest campaign fund, because a going concern always attracts followers and supporters."

The real questions of this year, are the league of nations, the labor problem and the extirpation of the liquor traffic.

BIG STYLE SHOW GREAT SUCCESS

McSwain Theater Is Packed With Ladies From All Over County.

The big new theater on Main street was the scene of great interest and excitement as the hour for the big style show drew near on Thursday afternoon. Much credit for the splendid success of the event should be given Manager McSwain. In his usual whole-hearted co-operative way, the big house had been made comfortable in every way. The lighting was fine indeed. The temporary walkways and display platforms had been arranged just right and all the little touches that go to make up the detail had been attended to in his own generous way.

The show was a complete success and a most pleasing surprise for everyone. Many men were present to evidence their approval of the adventure and to view the splendid array of fall clothing now on sale in Ada for the women and misses.

The show was conducted along the same lines as those held each season in the large cities and was attended by visitors and customers from the surrounding communities.

The business managers of the different firms and in most cases the proprietors themselves, were present to view the magnificent display of their own stocks.

The display shown consisted of hats, suits, coats (cloth and fur), dresses, morning, afternoon and evening costumes, furs, gloves, shoes and hose.

Twelve of the largest firms of the city were represented in the display of wearing apparel, while the Ada Greenhouse supplied the floral decorations, which were very beautiful and elaborate. Mr. Pitt of the greenhouse is not classed with the average florist, but is listed as one of the state's most extensive growers, as a visit to his fields west of the city will show.

The furniture placed for the comfort of the models and to decorate the show room was furnished by Yeagrin & Abney, one of the newest and largest furniture establishments, and was both elegant and well ordered, and well appreciated by the audience.

The seven charming models were all home ladies except Mrs. Roland of the Metropolitan Opera company. During pauses between exhibitions Mrs. Roland sang many beautiful selections, charming the audience with her talent as an entertainer.

The other young women were the Misses Pollye Stanfield, Eunice Bills, Esther Hardee and Mesdames Ben Tolbert, Earl Sumner and Austin Brown.

Splendid taste had been shown in selecting the models as each of them were pretty and each showed elegance and classiness in the manner in which they were able to display the charming apparel.

The show lasted two hours and the following firms were represented: Shaw's, Simpson's, Cooper's, Moser's, A. P. Brown's, Stevens-Wilson's, The Hub, Guests, Burk's, The Globe, Glines-Battell's, and Mrs. Cole's Millinery.

The music by the McSwain's own orchestra was unusually good and proved a leading feature.

Ship Captains Says Sailors Have Too Much Money on Shore Leave

LONDON.—American sea captains are complaining loudly to United States consuls about the difficulties which beset them as a result of the law requiring that the crew of an American vessel shall receive half their wage every five days. These shipmasters say it is playing directly into the hands of John Barleycorn in wet Europe and adding to the pitfalls on shore which ordinarily get in the way of the shore-going seaman.

According to one captain whose vessel recently arrived in a small provincial port in England, it was this five-day-and-50-percent regulation which made him feel the last night his vessel was in port as if his departure would have to be postponed indefinitely. There was a shortage of seamen in that small town, so he had no chance of signing on a new crew or enough men even to get his vessel out on the high seas. At his wits' end, he hired a taxi and visited all the wet spots and other sailors' objections in the town and gradually collected his crew, sometimes in couples, sometimes in singles, until dawn. Then he took a census and cast off all the hangers before any of the crew could get ashore again. Another captain who recently came to London said this new regulation meant that his crew left most of their earnings in a continental port, and that only as the vessel was pulling away from the docks did five of his men who had been hitting the high places with their 50 per cent of pay every five days finally scramble aboard.

These captains say the way is very easy nowadays for an American seaman to part with his cash, whether hard-earned or not. They are among the highest paid seamen in the world and old world sharks and crooks are not overlooking a bet. Women fleecers have followed some American vessels from one English port to another.

HOUSE SHORTAGE PROBLEM COMING

Guaranty Trust Co. Shows How Britain Handled Situation

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—The acute housing shortage faced by many cities in the United States today brought from the Guaranty Trust company a description by its foreign trade bureau of how Great Britain was meeting a similar situation.

"The program of the British Ministry of Health—complete rehousing in three years—is about one year behind and is costing more than double the original estimates," said the report.

"Local authorities in England are left in charge of the work unless they fail to show results, in which case the business is turned over to the office of works."

"What is keeping back housing at the present time is the fact that there are not enough skilled men to do even a quarter of the work wanted. The trades unions will not allow the number to be increased from the outside."

"The government is using a sort of indirect compulsion by prohibiting 'luxury and unessential building,' so that if a man will not build cottages he is not allowed to build anything."

"There are housing bond campaigns all over the country. In London, subscriptions to the six per cent bonds are coming in at the rate of about 100,000 pounds a day. While the local governments are issuing six percent bonds, the British government charges seven per cent. Borrowing in the ordinary way for housing schemes not financed by bonds is usually seven per cent."

"On July 21 the total number of housing schemes in England and Wales numbered 10,673, covering, in all, land for 800,000 houses. Of these 7,120 have been approved with an area for 550,000 houses. In Scotland 103,000 houses have been authorized, the bids averaging about 1,000 pounds per house. This is roughly about 100 pounds to 150 pounds more than it costs per house in England."

OLD VESSEL IS TAKEN TO CUBA

Steamer Chester Passes To Hands of Sugar Products Company.

By the Associated Press.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Sept. 4.—The last vessel of the Kansas City Missouri River Navigation company left the river recently when the steamer Chester passed into the hands of a sugar products company of New Orleans. The Chester will be taken to Cuba where it will be remodelled and used as a molasses boat on inland streams.

The steamer Chester was one of the first vessels acquired by the boat line. It came here in 1911, and was used for freight and passenger traffic between Kansas City and St. Louis. More steamers and barges were added to the boat line and for several seasons the river enjoyed some of the old commercial life that made it a vitally important highway in the early days of the west, when steam railways were still in their infancy. Considerable government work was done in improving and charting the river channel and lights were installed for the guidance of pilots.

Wharves that had been crumbling into decay for thirty years were made serviceable, and great towns like Lexington, Mo., and Jefferson City, which had once been great commercial centers and had lost much of their early prestige when river traffic languished, the coming of the steamers was a great event. Farmers brought wheat to the wharves for transportation to St. Louis.

With the coming of the European war, however, the river traffic came to an abrupt end. All the steamers of the navigation company except the Chester were commandeered by the federal government which afterward purchased the vessels. Wharves again began to crumble with disuse, and in spite of a growing shortage of freight cars, farmers had to look to the railroads alone to get their grain to market.

The Kansas City Missouri River Navigation Company is still in existence, and some day will again be doing business, according to W. S. Dickey, its president. A new fleet will be obtained, Mr. Dickey declares, and the traffic service enlarged. That activity cannot be resumed, however, he added, until government work on the Missouri river is resumed and the stream made navigable.

Enormous iron ore deposits have been discovered in the Dutch East Indies.

WRAP NOT NEEDED WITH THIS FROCK

This frock is sufficient unto itself, that is to say it will afford plenty of warmth for the early fall days without the addition of wraps or furs. The blouse and overskirt are of navy blue duvetyn cut in one piece. The panel is wine colored velvet banded in mole. The same fur finishes the neck and sleeves. A cord girdle finishes the costume which is rather unique and youthful.

Mrs. M. P. Tilden and Others Praise Swamp Chill Tonic

Mrs. Tilden, who lives in Little Creek, La., says: "Swamp Tonic is the best medicine I ever used, and I cannot get along without it."

Mr. John Plunkett, who lives in Gore, Okla., says, "I know Swamp Tonic can be relied on to cure chills, and I would never be without a bottle in the house."

Elmer Park is also a booster for this famous old tonic that relieves so much malaria, ague, chills, etc. Mr. Park says: "Every house should have Swamp Chill Tonic in it. It is the one remedy that positively cures all forms of chills and fever."

H. W. Scoggins, Essa, La., accidentally ran across a bottle of Swamp Chill Tonic and writes us that he likes it fine. Other letters such as these come in to us almost every day.

Swamp Chill Tonic is 60 cents a bottle. All dealers recommend it. D-295

No Gasoline Shortage.
There can surely be no cause for worry as to the country's supply of gasoline. The federal trade commission advises that production has gained $3,000,000 gallons on consumption in one month, and according to the report of this commission, gasoline supplies are increasing. The latest bureau of mines reports shows that reserve stock on hand at the refineries in March totaled over $26,000,000 gallons. This serves to offset some of the startling statements that have been made regarding the country's supply of gasoline.

There has been a shortage of gasoline in some sections of the country lately, but such conditions are largely brought about by delayed shipments. But the commission warns the industries to continue to save gasoline. The report of this recent investigation is being brought to your attention as you no doubt occasionally meet a prospective car buyer who has not placed his order fearing that the gasoline situation would become so serious that he would be without the use of his car.

BRITISH RAISE VESSEL SUNK TO BOTTLE UP U-BOATS

The Vindictive as it looks today in Ostend harbor.

The old warship Vindictive which the British sank at the mouth of Ostend harbor to bottle up German U-boats toward the end of the war has been raised. Recently it was moved further down the harbor where it ceases to be an impediment to navigation. The Vindictive will remain permanently at Ostend, where it is likely to become something of a shrine for English sailors.

ber of "pleasure cars" on the streets.

Mr. Coleman, who is the Dodge Brothers dealer in this city, said it seemed preposterous to him that people should continue referring to passenger cars as "pleasure cars," when the main streets are so choked with automobile traffic during business hours.

"Certainly they do not imagine that all those people driving cars through the noon and evening rush hours in the downtown section are out for joy-rides," he said. "Nor can they find one out of a hundred cars anywhere, any time of the day, that are traveling about aimlessly, with no object or destination. In the evening, it is true, hundreds of persons take their cars out for recreation drives, but this is incidental to the car's chief purpose in life. During the day it is in business. Even the fine limousines occupied by ladies and driven by liveried chauffeurs have their business missions. In fact, these people depend on the motor car exclusively as a means of transportation.

"Even newspaper editors sometimes thoughtlessly write articles about the great sums of money being invested in motor cars, 'to satisfy the American craving for pleasure.' Such editors usually admit on analyzing the conditions that have created the tremendous market for automobiles, that they had the wrong viewpoint, and are glad to state the other side of the question. It is the realization that it is the best possible means of local transportation, the best time-saver, the best conservator of health. Why should people who have the means to buy an automobile continue to subject themselves to the inconveniences of the street car, or to the costly delays of the horse and wagon? To cling to the slow, old-fashioned methods would not be characteristic of the American's determination to progress.

"A newspaper in a prominent western city not long ago published an editorial speaking rather disparagingly of this 'modern tendency to rush to the motor car, money or no money, and somehow, get possession of a pleasure car.' The Dodge Brothers dealer in that city promptly took exception to the article. He looked up his records, just to verify his own opinion, and found that out of 3 cars he had delivered during the preceding month, 11 were bought for business purposes and two for business and recreation. All but two were passenger cars. Eighty per cent were paid for in cash. He wrote a letter to the editor, giving him the figures and adding some comments of his own. The editor promptly responded with another editorial presenting the subject in a new phase. He made all the points the dealer had made and added some of his own, showing that the motor car is bought and used primarily for business purposes and that the recreational thought is almost invariably secondary in the mind of the purchaser.

"So it is that the misnomer 'pleasure car' continues to exist. People do not stop to think and analyze. But when they do, they quickly realize where they were wrong, just as this editor told the dealer in a letter.

"The motor car is a public necessity and will continue to be a necessity just as long as stores and offices are open, and new buildings are erected and men go to work."

STURDILY built—designed for power and dependability, possessing grace and beauty in every line—the new Buick Nineteen Twenty One series signally upholds the traditions that have made the name Buick a notable word in the automotive industry.

Two decades have more than justified the unwavering fidelity to the accepted engineering ideals to which Buick stands committed. The same rugged Valve-in-Head motor refined is a distinguishing feature of every model.

In appearance, the Buick Nineteen Twenty One series is notable for the harmonious blending of low, graceful body lines; in appointments, for those added refinements that so materially increase the pleasure and comfort of motoring.

In addition to the general features of the new models the Buick Five-Passenger Touring Car (Twenty One Forty Five) possesses a roominess of tonneau and new arrangement of seating that afford occupants the utmost in riding comfort. For the business man or his family; for the needs of city driving or country driving, this model excels because of its capacity for varied service.

THE TOWN GOSSIP

WHENEVER IT happens.
THAT PEOPLE aren't satisfied.
WITH WHAT'S going on.
THEY GO out on a strike.
AND IN the last year or so.
WE'VE HAD strikes.
FROM THE railroad men.
AND THE switchmen.
AND THE dock workers.
AND ELEVATOR men.
AND NURSE maids.
AND ICE-wagon drivers.
AND EVERY other class.
AND AT the present time.
IT SORT of looks.
AS THOUGH the coal miners.
WERE GOING on a strike.
BECAUSE THEY aren't satisfied.
WITH THE pay they're getting.
AND WITH working conditions.
AND IT'S a great system.
AS FAR as it goes.
AND THERE are times.
WHEN THINGS go wrong.
AROUND THE office.
AND WHEN bills come in.
FASTER THAN the money.
AND ADVERTISEMENTS come in.
FASTER THAN we can set them up.
AND AT those times.

I'VE SORT of sympathized.
WITH THE strikers.
AND THAT'S one disadvantage.
OF WORKING on a paper.
BECAUSE THERE'S only one.
IN A town, as a rule.
AND IF we were to go.
OUT ON a strike.
AND STAY out.
FOR A couple of days.
IT WOULDN'T make.
VERY MUCH difference.
AND FOLKS like J. J. Coleman.
OVER IN Center.
WOULD GO to the postoffice.
AFTER THEIR mail.
AND THE paper wouldn't be there.
AND ALL they'd say.
WOULD BE:
"I'M WILLING to bet.
"THAT THE old fool.
"IS ON a drunk again."
AND THEY'D go home.
PERFECTLY SATISFIED.
AND NOBODY would worry.
EXCEPT MYSELF.
AIN'T IT awful?
IT CERTAINLY is.
I THANK you.

Highway Mileage Far Exceeds That of Railroad Lines

A comparison of railroad mileage with highway mileage shows that throughout the entire United States the highway mileage is approximately ten times greater than the railroad mileage, the figures showing that there are 2,478,552 miles of highways and 253,625 miles of railroads.

For every mile of railroad we have there are ten miles of highway, for every railroad car there are three motor cars. We possess a motor vehicle for every fifty-nine yards of railroad right-of-way.

A comparison of the railroad mileage in the various states with the number of motor vehicles in use in those states shows a decidedly unequal distribution of transportation facilities. In Rhode Island, for instance, there is one motor vehicle for every nine yards of railroad track, while in Nevada there is but one motor vehicle for every 434 yards. Texas, whose railroad mileage is 25 per cent greater than that of any other state, has one motor vehicle for every eighty-five yards, as compared with one motor vehicle for every 188 yards in Louisiana, its neighboring state.

These figures show conclusively the rapid development of motor transportation, and that millions of people realize they can obtain more efficient and dependable transportation by the use of light-weight cars such as the Maibohm Six, than is obtainable in any other way.

Don't Be Content With "Hobson's Choice!"

More than a hundred years ago, Toby Hobson of Cambridge kept the only horses for hire in town. But his customers had no choice save to take the horse nearest the door, whether little or much to their liking.

So "Hobson's Choice" has come to mean: "Take this or none!"

Today, through the advertisements in this and other papers, you have all the world to choose from. Yes, through Advertisements the world comes to your door with its wares. Advertisements give you the opportunity for comparison and selection of almost anything you want or need.

Advertisements are an accurate index of what other people are buying, selling, wearing, eating, doing, learning; of what the world is accomplishing and how, where and by whom it is being accomplished.

Form the habit of reading advertisements just as regularly as you read the front page. You will find it profitable and mightily interesting as well.

A VOICE FROM THE TOMBS

In looking over the history of American politics one is startled to observe the bitter feeling shown by campaigners in the days following closely the war between the states. The bloody shirt, so called, was the chief clan call of the partisans and in the days of Garfield and Blaine and Ingalls the bloody shirt was waved with an insensate hatred that is hard to understand nowadays. At the south the other side of the question was invoked, and for a quarter of a century prejudice determined the result of every campaign.

When James G. Blaine made the prediction that a day would come when any candidate appealing to the prejudice developed by the war would find himself without a following that day was nearer than he dreamed. The bitter passion of the early sixties passed from the currents of politics and the bloody shirt became a memory. But recent occurrences have demonstrated that the prejudice of the sections has only been asleep and that it requires very little encouragement to arouse that prejudice into a lively flame.

Little attention was paid to the mid-campaign attack of Senator Lodge on "Wilson, the Virginian and McAdoo the Georgian" in 1918, even though the war was raging at the time and patriotism suggested the propriety of ignoring such sectional appeals. But the late demand of Senator Capper for the election of a republican administration to beat down the price of cotton can hardly be ignored. His threat against the leading industry of the south was hardly so puerile as his appeal to the prejudice against a section of the Union. That such an appeal should be made by an American senator and that its deliverance should win considerable applause is disquieting to real Americans.

But a bolder and more malicious appeal to such ignoble feeling was recently made in a campaign speech by Senator Watson of Indiana. His language is luminous:

"The south has been in the saddle for the last seven years, and the south is not competent to handle the affairs of this nation. The south has robbed the north systematically under Woodrow Wilson. You people in the north pay the taxes and the south has got rich. You northern farmers had your wheat price fixed, while southern cotton made the southerners wealthy. If you want four more years of southern control, vote for Cox."

That a man can be found who will make such an appeal to sectional prejudice is unimportant. But when such an appeal is popular and its expression is considered good political tactics its deliverance becomes most important. We who hoped so much for the unification of America by the sacrifices of the world war have reason for disappointment when such a speech is delivered by a senator and is warmly received and applauded. It is disappointing to learn that there is anywhere in America a community where an attack upon a section of the nation is considered a good political maneuver.

ECONOMY AND PIFFLE

If republicans expect to win the election upon their boasted record of cutting off two and a half billion dollars of the estimates made by the executive departments, they should first examine the record of the democratic congress. They should examine that record good and hard.

While the war was at its height the democrats cut more than fourteen and a half billion dollars out of estimates made by departments, at nearly six times the alleged saving by the republicans in the last congress. This feat was accomplished in preparing the supply bills for running the war in the fiscal year July 1, 1918 to June 30, 1919. All the estimates for this period amounted to $41,673,447,681. Congress appropriated $27,092,094,720. It cut the estimates nearly six times the amount claimed by the present republican congress.

If the republicans will only look a little farther they will find that the democrats have cut departmental estimates every year since 1912, with the exception of the preparedness period in 1916-1917. And the republicans will farther find that the estimates have been cut by congress every year for the past thirty years with the exception of only two years. The republicans boast of economy because they have done what always has been done. They boast of a savings that is only one sixth of the saving effected by the democratic congress that preceded them.

The republican party is interested in the welfare of the American soldier and proud of the services he performed in France. Their interest is shown in their failure to enact any legislation for his relief and their pride is expressed in their national platform that failed to mention his achievements.

If the republican national committee will only read Al Jennings' "Beating Back", they will get some valuable suggestions on how to "Get the Money."

President Wilson has had a number of enemies in his own party but it is now proper to speak of them in the past tense.

Court House News

Negro Woman Drunk.
A negress by the name of Josie Anderson was arrested on a charge of drunkenness. In the mayor's court she confessed partaking of Choctaw beer, was fined $10.75 and confined in the city jail upon default of payment.

Law Violators Warned.
Mayor Kitchens is redoubling his efforts to bring to justice all classes of law violators in the city limits. He states that he will show no distinction between colors, classes and creeds. It is his firm intention to make Ada a fit place for upright folks to live in.

Crap Game Interrupted.
Yesterday morning between midnight and day, Walter Chapman, Bob Luckey, Arthur Williams and Simon Fraser were caught playing a game of craps in the Gregg barn.

The four parties were arraigned yesterday, before Mayor Kitchens each plead guilty of indulging in the above mentioned game and paid his assessed fee of $10.75.

Raid Among Negroes.
Last night the federal officers, under the direction of T. E. Brents, assisted by the local police force, made a raid for Choctaw beer in the negro vicinity. It is stated that this intoxicant was poured out from one end of the settlement to the other. With one exception all "choch" found was located in the weeds.

At the house of Ophelia Watson a dishpan of "choch" was found. Also, a party testified to buying "choch" from her. For these two offenses, Brents made two separate charges against her and she will have to appear in federal court.

This is not all for Ophelia. She was arrested for stabbing a negro man by the name of Sam Ferguson last night. The warrant charges her with "assault with a dangerous weapon without justifiable or excusable cause." She made the bond of $500, which was set and will appear in court later.

Disqualified for Business.

A new boy came to work for Sorghum Smith. One day Sorghum missed him for over half an hour. "What you bin so long?" he snarled when the boy appeared.

"Down cellar. I've been cleaning the lasses measure. It was so clogged it didn't hold more'n half what it should."

"Get out!" shouted Sorghum. "I'm through with you. You go home an' tell yer maw to educate you for the ministry."

It All Depends.

"I don't believe that men get impatient while waiting for a woman to get ready."

"Why?"

"The other day I couldn't find my gloves and had a long hunt for half a dozen other things, and yet when I went downstairs my husband was reading and smoking as calmly as if I wasn't late at all."

"Where were you going?"

"Shopping."

Young Folks' Meeting.

The young folks of the Church of Christ meet tonight for their regular Friday night study. All young folks interested in this meeting are urged to be at the church at 8 o'clock.

Home Coming.

Again the Methodist church wishes to impress upon its followers that next Sunday is "Home Coming Day." All Methodists, all folks inclined to be Methodists and all others without preference, who care to attend this service are asked to be present and enjoy a spiritual feast.

Come early and bring the whole family.

First Baptist Church.

Next Sunday morning at 11 o'clock the pastor of the First Baptist church, Rev. C. C. Morry, will preach on the subject "Christ in the Home."

This day has been set apart by southern Baptists as the day to preach on this subject and to urge upon the people the necessity of observing family worship and otherwise making our homes Christian.

Brother Morris is very anxious to have the heads of all families in the church present, and any others who can come. There is no subject as vital as this for the welfare of the home itself, and anyone with a moments reflection, is forced to conclude present day conditions, that the home life of the American people is fast tending towards its utter destruction.

Come next Sunday morning and hear the message on this all important subject and you may be benefitted.

Westminster Guild Circle.

The girls of the First Presbyterian church and their friends met last week and organized a Westminster Guild Circle with twenty charter members. The following officers were elected: Pres., Miss Bernice Roach; Vice-Pres., Miss Thelma Roberts; Secy., Miss Jeannette Bobbitt; Secy. of Literature, Miss Geraldine Hale; Treas., Miss Ora Ewing; Patronesses, Mrs. B. M.

Bobbitt and Miss Mollie Russell. They will meet every two weeks and a buffet lunch will be served each time. Open house will be held every two months.

All girls in the city between the ages of 14 and 18 are invited to join.

Misses Pauline Trippett and Jeannette Bobbitt will be hostesses at next meeting at the home of Miss Trippett.

The guild held its first regular meeting Tuesday from 5 to 7:30 p. m., at the home of Mrs. B. M. Bobbitt. A business meeting was held and a social hour enjoyed. The hostess served buffet style cream chicken on toast, browned potatoes, tomato salad, ice tea, fruit jello with whipped cream, and wafers.

Notice.
A special called meeting tonight at 8:30; Elks Club; all members requested to attend. Sam Scheinberg, Exalted Ruler. 9-10-1td

Signs of the Times

In getting cards and interesting letters from Adaites who are away during the summer months, a glimpse and a breeze from these wanderers is gathered which is, indeed, very refreshing. They usually write in jubilant and most interesting tone of what they see, tell of their delightful experiences while in camp, during their sojourn at some celebrated resort on lake or ocean coast, write gaily of people passing of whom they meet, and assure you of the wonderful scenic effects they have enjoyed while touring the Canadian Rockies and the western portion of our own United States. The thought comes all at once what a pot pourri of experience this is when they have all reached home if each might tell of what a summer they have spent. You wonder if they have drawn comparisons between what they have seen, people they have met, and advantages they have had, and their own homeland, Oklahoma, and their home city, Ada.

Some dare to say there are many who make Ada their home just for business reasons. This is irrevocably disputed when a good sized motor ride over Ada's residential districts is taken and you see with what care and thought beautiful homes have been built here. Homes not built in a day, around which are wide stretches of beautiful lawn dotted with flower beds and shrubs selected from caretaking nurseries. People do not build this way if their homes are temporary and the mind is elsewhere. Pride in Ada has occasioned people who have come here, whether they made their millions in oil or are enjoying a prosperous livelihood in other business, to sink their foundation for a home in Ada sand with the idea of "here I will abide." Speaking of Ada residences, one also sees real homemaking and a vast degree of artistry in the homes of those who do not reside in the sections of the city where wealth abides. These beautiful bungalows and cottages have occasioned much pleasing comment from the passing stranger within Ada's portals. You wonder if the summer sojourners elsewhere have glimpsed such cities as Ada in their itinerary. A city so substantially built and created in such a brief number of years. It has not been long ago, so the pioneers say, since cattle ranged on the ground right here in the heart of the city; not so many years since you went up crude steps into the best merchandise stores where now marble and granite buildings lift their imperial selves into the sky, story by story. Ada's climate has offered the stay-at-homes this year a wonderful summer and people just now returning from northern resorts say they found it warmer where they have been. There is much to say about Ada but you wonder what the homefolk might say, if they were asked, on their return about what they have seen in comparison.

And another interesting bit of news is the summer sojourners are coming home sooner this year than ever before and by the middle of September, it is believed that the greatest number who have been away, will have returned. Of course, September brings those who are entering their children in schools at home and abroad, and this season opens a very important and interesting season for everyone. Right now Ada is busy getting homes for these wonderful women who will have charge of Ada's young folk for the scholastic year. A very serious thought is associated with this matter of properly housing school teachers. If there is a person in the world who has a responsibility it is the school teacher. Heavy upon her shoulders lies this mantle and it behooves the people to help her keep in prime condition for her duties. Brain is subservient to the physical body and the physical being can endure just so much. Ada does not want her teachers bothered about where they can be housed, how they enter on their duties tired out they are to be housed, nor should after going from place to place all over the city of Ada, probably having found just a make-shift place, just any sort of spot in which to dwell. Let Ada's public spirit assert itself and let some of the homes where there are spare rooms that are seldom used, be offered these women. It is hoped that the Chamber of Commerce and the civic clubs, whose membership is composed of both men and women, will interest themselves in this grave and most important matter.

Personal Mention

Nations Rivals In Auto Business

LONDON—British and American automobile manufacturers are liable to be seriously affected by a recent decree of the Italian government prohibiting makers of cars in Italy from selling more than 10 per cent of their product in their own country.

This obliges the manufacturers to find an export market for 90 per cent of Italian made autos. France, as a result of this decree, has prohibited the importation of all foreign cars, and it is said that Switzerland will shortly pass a similar measure. This action is being taken by France and Switzerland in order to prevent her markets being flooded by foreign cars.

"Great Britain, at present," declares the American chamber of commerce in London, "imposes a duty of 33 1-3 per cent on all pleasure vehicles imported into this country, but agricultural and commercial motors are free of duty. British manufacturers are therefore exceedingly alarmed at the possibility of the home markets being swamped by foreign makes of business vehicles."

"There is a report here also that America is making one million cars for export to this country during the coming year, and that France, Italy and Switzerland are all aiming at producing a large number of cars for export. British manufacturers are therefore making strenuous efforts to meet the demand for cars in South America, the United States and the British colonies."

LABOR SHORTAGE TO RESULT IN SHORT ACREAGE

By the Associated Press

NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—Shortage of labor in the agricultural states is resulting in a reduction of acreages which threatens America's food supply, according to the findings of Perley F. Walker, dean of the Kansas University engineering school, made public today at national headquarters of the American Society of National Engineers. He is head of a research committee of the Mid-Continent section of that society.

Dean Walker found population at a standstill or declining in agricultural sections, pointing out that 16 of the 105 counties in Kansas prevented that state from decreasing in population in a decade, the increases all being in industrial centers. "The same thing holds good in Iowa and doubtless in other states for the same period," the dean reported.

Many farmers cannot pay their 1919 debts because the railroads are unable to move their wheat harvest, and they are piling down production, he said.

As a remedy, Dean Walker suggested a study by engineers of the economics of transportation and production with a view to systematizing a national fitting of enterprises to localities. This, he thought, would work out better distribution of population where needed and would prevent continued inability of the transportation systems to meet the demands upon them.

WATSON NOMINATION UNFAVORABLE TO WHITE

By the Associated Press
NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—The nomination of Thomas F. Watson to succeed Hoke Smith as United States senator from Georgia represents something of a blow to the democratic party. George White, chairman of the democratic national committee stated here today, while discussing southern primary results.

"Watson's nomination, I believe," said White, "resulted not so much from his attitude on any national question; however, as from the support accorded him by a larger number of personal followers."

SWAM TO KEEP JUNGLE TRYST

U. S. Marine Hero of Love Drama In Isle of Guam.

MILL VALLEY, Ca.—War, intrigue, love in the tropics, flight thru the jungle, retribution, and finally an idyllic ending in the peaceful shores of California.

These are not characters in a Richard Harding Davis novel, but facts in a drama from life just come to light here, where the last act is being lived by two happy souls and a disgruntled father on his way back to Germany after two years' internment.

Years ago only a few miles apart on the Elbe in North Germany were born Hans Hornbostle, whose parents were visiting their old home at the time, and Gertrude von Costenoble, daughter of a lieutenant in the Prussian army. The young hero came west to America and the family settled in New York, his brother becoming one of America's leading architects and Hans a U. S. marine.

Finds Facts—Loses Heart.
The heroine went east. Her father losing his money, resigned from the German army and took his family to Guam where he founded the Guam Commercial company at Agana, the capital. His big stone house became the center of German commercial, social and diplomatic activities.

America entered the war and Hornbostle was sent to Guam under Capt. Earl Ellis, becoming assistant to the intelligence officer in the island. The big stone house continued to be the gathering place of rich Germans, and nightly the walls resounded with roasts to the kaiser. Ellis told Hornbostle his suspicions that von Costenoble was the representative of the imperial German government and instructed him to get the facts. Because he could speak German he was told to become acquainted with the family. The young marine got the facts, but he lost his heart, and he and Gertrude secretly plighted their troth.

Flee Into Jungle.
The father, fearing his daughter was in love with a non-commissioned officer in the American service, took her from the city to his plantation, and placed a native guard to watch over her. Her simple native dress was her only wardrobe.

But the sergeant was undaunted, and a secret trysting place was arranged at a shrine near the river. She was delayed, but dashing away from her attendant, Gertrude swam a half mile down the river, where, dripping and exhausted, she met her swain waiting with auto and native driver.

Costenoble was enraged and pursued them in an ox cart, but love was swifter, and the pair soon arrived in Agana, where the marines Cadena de Amor, a flower of heart-shaped blossoms, and the Rev. A. W. Logan, the Methodist missionary, performed the ceremony.

Arrests Father-in-Law.
Into the jungle in a buckboard for several weeks went the honeymooners. On his return, Hornbostle arrested his father-in-law on information he had secured, and the junker was sent to America. While his father-in-law was cooling his anger in his new stone house, the federal prison on Alcatraz Island in San Francisco bay, Sergeant Hornbostle, now stationed in San Francisco, passed him daily back and forth in the redwoods of Mill Valley, their home.

The father is now enroute to Germany after his release. Down in Guam the old stone mansion is turned into the Marine band headquarters.

SAYS HIS MACHINE WILL RESTORE LIFE TO DROWNED AFTER 72 HOURS

George Anston and his life saving machine.

George Anston of Washington, D. C., a young Greek inventor, says he has perfected a machine to restore life in cases of drowning, asphyxiation, etc., within seventy-two hours after death. His theory is that the heart does not cause circulation of the blood, but that the origin of circulation is through the inhalation and exhalation of air through the lungs. Anston is the inventor of the best type of submarine periscope in use by the U. S. navy.

894 Illegitimate Births Reported In 33 Counties In State; Hospital Urged

OKLAHOMA CITY, Sept. 10.—The Salvation Army, through its recently organized county advisory boards, has just completed a survey of "moral disorders and social distress" in 65 counties of Oklahoma and the figures compiled Tuesday at army headquarters, 106 West Reno, are enough "to stagger society," according to George W. Thomas staff captain of the local corps.

Thirty-three counties reported 894 illegitimate births. Twenty-one counties reported 83 prospective girl mothers needing hospital care; 37 counties reported a total of 1,872 desertions of families, husbands or wife; 16 counties reported 89 young boys and girls needing home immediately; 37 counties reported 326 delinquents as having been sent to the reform schools; a total of 2,370 juveniles were reported to county officials in 49 counties.

The record in each case is incomplete, Captain Thomas said. The county boards will continue the survey in an effort to get more information and details.

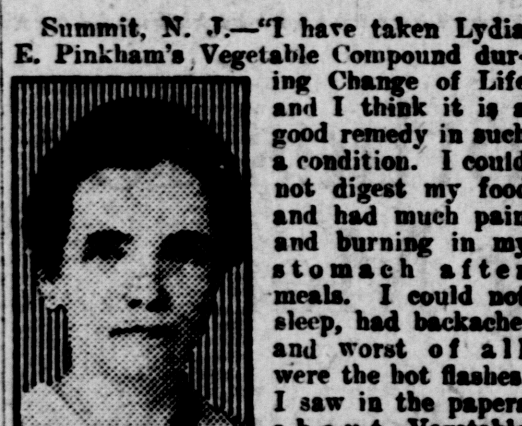

The state advisory board of the Salvation Army, of which Governor Robertson is chairman and A. N. Leecraft president has arrived at the following conclusions since the reports were received:

"That the county boards should continue the work they have undertaken with renewed interest and energy, always keeping in mind the idea of self-help but never hesitating to call upon the Salvation Army for advice or assistance in acute cases. That the county boards should consider the possibility of developing the plan through inter-board co-operation.

"That the Salvation Army has already been called upon by county boards in Oklahoma to handle a sufficient number of maternity and rescue cases to demonstrate the urgent need of a Salvation Army home for these cases to be built in Oklahoma for Oklahoma people. That conditions revealed in the county confidential studies demonstrate also the urgent need of a Salvation Army industrial home in Oklahoma.

"That the county boards should cheerfully undertake the responsibility of providing for the maintenance of all Salvation Army activities in the state of Oklahoma as well as for their extension where it is manifest such extension will ultimately aid in raising the standard of life and citizenship in the state. That in all things the county boards should accept the spirit of the Salvation Army as well as its assistance and its facilities, a spirit which it broadly applied will ultimately reduce social distress and moral disorder to an absolute minimum."

The Salvation Army home service fund appeal will be conducted in Oklahoma and throughout the southwest in October. The funds raised in Oklahoma will be spent in Oklahoma and a rescue and maternity home for unfortunates, and an industrial home for men who "may be down but not out," will be the first buildings erected.

It was erroneously reported that seven hundred girls 14 years old and older had been sent to maternity homes in Texas in the last three months. The report should have read seventeen girls.

"Who Will Buy My Dates?"

You have heard of the Oriental Bazaar. Perhaps you have seen it. Everybody in the city or village with anything to sell takes his wares to the bazaar and cries for buyers. The gardener with his vegetables, the herder with his goats, the old woman with a basket of fowls, the rug dealer, the fruit grower with dates and figs. There is much picturesqueness along with clamor, confusion, dirt and endless wastage of time.

In our American cities, the advertisements in the daily newspaper take the place of the ancient bazaar. Whoever has something to sell can tell you of his goods, and where to find them directly. Whatever you want to buy, you can read of it in advertisements, and go straight to the place where it may be seen. Clear and truthful advertising make it safe to order by telephone and avoid leaving your home at all.

Make it a practice to read the advertisements. They are the great bazaar of modern civilization. They are your source of information by which wise buying is accomplished.

THOUGHT THAT THE ALLIES WILL NOW COMPROMISE

By the Associated Press
SPA, Belgium, July 8.—A compromise with Germany on the time to be allowed her for disarmament, fixing the period at six months, looked to be probable outcome today of the conferences among the allied delegates here. The Germans have asked for 15 months in which to disarm.

The conference will meet at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon, when, it is stated, the allies will make known to the Germans the final decision regarding the disarmament.

POLISH WOMEN NOW ENLISTING WITH THE ARMY

By the Associated Press
WARSAW, July 7.—Owing to the critical condition of the country, volunteers for active service in the army are offering themselves from every side. They include school and university teachers, students, boy scouts, civil service and ministerial employees, whose occupations excuse them from military service.

Stirred by the appeal of the national council of defense, for volunteers, hundreds of girls and women have taken the initial steps to join the army. Yesterday uniformed women and girls paraded the streets singing. The women's battalion will be used chiefly for guard duty in garrisons and as train escorts, thus relieving men for front line duty.

She is a Wise Woman who recognizes in the tell-tale symptoms such as backache, headaches, dragging sensations, nervousness and irritability the true cause and relies on Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to restore her to a healthy normal condition. For forty years this root and herb remedy has been pre-eminently successful in controlling the diseases of women. Merit alone could have stood such a test of time.

OHIO, WITH COX AND HARDING IS NOW WAR FRONT

SAN FRANCISCO, July 7.—Ohio, always a doubtful and important state in national elections, has assumed added importance this year because both parties chose as the presidential nominees men from the Buckeye state.

It is the first time since 1904 that a similar thing has occurred. That year Roosevelt and Parker, both from New York, were the nominees.

With Harding and Cox contending for honors in the nation, Ohio is certain to be hotly contested this fall.

The next president will be the sixth Ohioan to occupy the White House.

The two candidates are alike in many ways. Cox is now governor of Ohio. Harding was lieutenant governor. Both are newspaper owners and formerly both were practical newspaper men. Both have been in congress, Harding now being a member of the senate, while Cox was once in the house of representatives.

In temperament they are totally unlike. Harding has been frequently compared with William McKinley. He is of that even tempered, friendly sort that seldom makes enemies. Cox is an aggressive, active man, somewhat blunter on occasions than Harding, but able to use the arts of diplomacy or good politics.

Politically, Cox has been classed as a progressive, while Harding is known as a thoroughgoing stand-patter.

New Chemical Kills Bed Bugs P. D. Q.

P. D. Q. (Peaky Devils Quilts) is the name of a new golden colored chemical discovery by Dr. Price that actually kills the worst infested house of bedbugs, roaches, fleas, ants and their eggs. They don't have time to kick after you go after them with P. D. Q. A 35c package of P. D. Q. makes a quart of strong bug-killer, and goes farther than a barrel of the old fashioned dangerous dope. P. D. Q. kills and kills their eggs and prevents hatching. FREE a patent spout in every box to enable you to get them in the hard-to-get-at places, and saves juice.

P. D. Q. for family use 35c. Special Hospital and Hotel size $2.50 makes 5 gallons, contains 3 spouts—your druggist can supply you, or sent prepaid to your address either size on receipt of price by the Owl Chemical Co., Terre Haute, Ind. P. D. Q. is never peddled.

STUDENTS TO DO RECONSTRUCTION

Forty Young Students Are In France and Will Design Plans.

By the Associated Press. PARIS, Sept. 10.—The Harvard reconstruction group, made up of some forty young student architects and engineers of the advanced grades at Harvard university, have left for their posts in the Argonne and Meuse regions to carry on their work of reconstruction in the devastated areas.

M. Ogier, minister of the Liberated Regions, received the group on its recent arrival here, and assured them the fullest facilities of the French government in carrying on their work. Five members of the mission were assigned to Rheims. Two of them are to work under the direction of M. Deneu, architect of the cathedral, in designing plans for the restoration of the famous basilica. Others are taking part in the gradual restoration of the old city back to its pre-war aspect.

At Suppe four of the Harvard group are under the direction of M. Lavigne, government architect, in the construction of standardized provisional houses of four and five rooms. At Somme-Py four others are drawing plans for the court house and school. Others are engaged in planning a modern system of gas, water and electricity for Somme-Py.

How It Looks. Cleveland Plaindealer: Eight people have been indicted in the Bergdoll case, and it begins to look as if everyone would be brought to justice, with the possible exception of Bergdoll.

Hopelessly Dry. Washington Post: Bill Bryan is so dry that he can't even shed tears over the defeat of the administration.

TOPEKA TO MEET HOUSING PROBLEM

Citizens Will Form Corporation Which Plans to Build Homes.

By the Associated Press. TOPEKA, Kan., Sept. 10.—Topeka plans to meet the housing situation by the formation of a corporation to build 2,500 homes within the next five years. This is the figure which it is estimated will be required by the normal growth of the city.

An exhaustive survey of conditions has just been completed by William Hurley, chairman of the housing committee of the local chamber of commerce, who reported his findings with recommendations for meeting the situation.

"Homes must be supplied for 2,500 families in the next five years if Topeka's industries maintain a normal growth," declared Mr. Hurley.

Creation of a housing and improvement association to be organized among the business men with an authorized capitalization of $100,000 divided into 1,000 shares at $100 each, was recommended in the report.

"With a capitalization of $100,000," said the report, "the corporation should be able to borrow a like amount on general credit. Money also could be borrowed on security of first mortgages on the properties owned."

The proposal provides for vesting control and management of the corporation in the chamber of commerce. It was estimated the corporation should be able to earn a net return of 8 per cent a year.

Homes would be sold on an initial payment of 10 per cent and further payments would be 1 per cent a month. Workmen would be urged to own their homes. A committee was appointed by the chamber of commerce to institute measures for carrying out the recommendations.

The Difference. Brawn (to dentist)—I won't pay anything extra for gas. Just yank the tooth out, even if it does hurt a little.

Dentist—I must say you are very plucky. Just let me see the tooth.

Brawn—O, I haven't got any toothache; it's Mrs. Brawn. She'll be here in a minute.

Paying For It. A businesslike man stepped into a butcher's shop. "A piece of beef for roasting!" he ordered briskly.

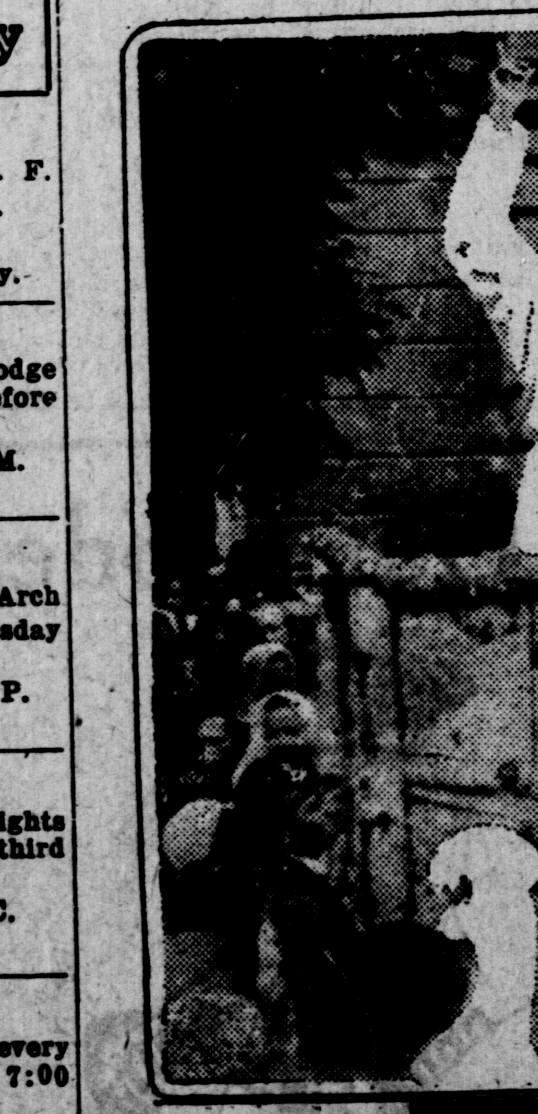

The meat mostly bone was thrown on the scales.

"Look here!" remonstrated the man. "You're giving me a big piece of bone!"

"Oh no, I ain't," said the butcher, blandly. "Ye're payin' fer it."

A Perfect Day. Probably the brightest day in a tired consumer's life is when he sees a $17 suit marked down from $60 to $49.80.

POLISH PRIESTS EXHORT PEASANTS TO FIGHT FOR FAITH AND COUNTRY

All over Poland Catholic priests are exhorting the peasants, who until recently were apathetic toward the war with Russia, to rise and make a determined stand against the Reds in defense of their religion and their country. AMERICAN BOY SCOUTS ARE HAVING A GRAND TIME ABROAD

Several hundred American Boy Scouts from all sections of the country are now touring in Europe and having the time of their lives. After their jamboree in London, where they were shown every courtesy by the British government, the lads visited France. They are seen here marching to the Grand Palace in Paris, where they gave a most interesting exhibition.

IS THE HAPPIEST WOMAN IN STATE

"The results I have gotten from Tanlac are so wonderful that I feel compelled to tell everybody about it," said Mrs. John Poe, 601 Third St., Pekin, Ill., "and my recovery, after fifteen years suffering, has made me the happiest woman in Illinois."

"Why, everything I ate caused me agony. Gas pressed up around my heart so I would faint, and when I recovered consciousness I would be limp as a rag. Lots of times my neighbors came in thinking I was going to die. I also suffered with rheumatism so bad I would have to sit for days at a time with my feet on a pillow in a chair, and my elbows were so stiff and painful I could hardly use my arms. I could hardly sleep at all and have stayed awake many a night from pain."

"My husband urged me to try Tanlac and the way it restored my health was the greatest surprise that I ever had. Why, I have gained thirty pounds since I began taking it. My troubles have disappeared completely and I feel as splendid as when I was a girl. I just feel like I owe my life to Tanlac and I only wish I had known of it long ago."

Tanlac is sold in Ada by Gwin & Mays Drug Co., in Stonewall by L. P. Carpenter, in Francis by Francis Drug Co., in Roff by Dowdy's Pharmacy, in Allen by McManis & Ross and in Vanoss by Chas. L. Berger. adv

The New Fall Clothes are here and as the crisp Fall air and crunching of fallen leaves remind us of a new wardrobe, the keen minds of men and boys are turned toward the Model Clothiers for the correct things in wearing apparel.

DOLLARS TO DOUGHNUTS

THE New Fall Suits we're showing are $5 to $15 cheaper than anywhere else in town; made possible by our buyers spending a long time in the Eastern market during the "high price" agitation and snapping up the finest values shown in years, from manufacturers desiring to unload. The styles and patterns are the very newest out this sea-

LITTLE TEXAS RANGER WINS A PRIZE

Little Miss James in her go-cart.

Down in Galveston, Texas, Miss Frances Drucilla James, was awarded first prize in a beauty contest. Her little go-cart was decorated in blue silk, and the judges had little difficulty in giving the premier honors to her.

The Boy Scouts

The Pontotoc council discovered a new troop of Scouts yesterday at Stonewall. They have been organized as a separate troop for some time. Rev. Hilland of the Methodist church there is scoutmaster and Mr. Gaines, editor of the Stonewall News, is assistant. Arrangements were made there yesterday for a meeting to give scouting a little more publicity in that city so that many more parents and boys will understand how helpful the scout work really is.

Through the assistance of L. Warr and J. H. Collins, an opportunity will be given the local scout council to present the Boy Scout movement to the parents and boys in north Ada. This will be done at the prayermeeting service held at the Tabernacle. All parents are urged to attend this service and learn the facts about the scout movement from those who understand it.

THE CAMPAIGN EXPENSES OF A MISSOURIAN

By the Associated Press
WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—Here are some of the campaign expenses of G. H. Foree, a defeated Missourian congressional aspirant, which he listed under oath in his expense account filed recently with W. Tyler Page, clerk of the house of representatives.

"August 1—Postage for twenty-five letters to influential men in my district, telling that I was trusting to the kindness of the people and the mercy of God to elect me (both failed) 50 cents. "August 2—For professional services of a tonsorial artist in shap-

ADA'S LEADING CLOTHIER

MEETS HUBBY SHE THOUGHT HANGED

LONDON.—For eight years Mrs. Alice Playfoot lived in the belief that her husband was the man hanged here for the famous "Brides in the Bath Murders." She saw him on the street here a few days ago.

Mrs. Playfoot's story told in court when she appeared for protection from her former husband, is perhaps without parallel in Scotland Yard's annals of "mistaken identity."

The Playfoots were legally separated years ago. While she was ill in bed, a man called Smith, was arrested and charged with a peculiarly atrocious crime, called the "Brides in the Bath Murders." His specialty was to break into a bathroom of a newly-married woman and kill her.

Mrs. Playfoot identified Smith's newspaper picture as that of her former husband. She visited the Pentonville prison yard and from a distance identified Smith as her husband. Smith was convicted and hanged.

"I have seen a wax figure of Smith in Mme. Tussaud's Chamber of Horrors too," said Mrs. Playfoot, "and I was certain it was Playfoot. Then the other day I passed him on the street!"

"I thought at first he was a ghost, but I recognized him by a scar over his eye. He muttered something."

"I saw him again, and again he muttered. Now I want a claim for non-payment of alimony, not because I expect to get it, but to keep him away from me. I'm afraid of him."

Mrs. Ward and her chart showing how farmers' wives habitually overwork.

Mrs. Florence E. Ward of the U. S. department of agriculture aids and abets farmers' wives in persuading their husbands to install household conveniences comparable with the farm conveniences he installs for himself. The office recently made a survey of 10,000 farm homes to learn of the living conditions and needs of the farmers' wives. Some of the facts revealed by the survey were:

Gen. Plutarco Elias Calles, secretary of war and marine.

"I understand that destroyers can be bought from the United States government for $20,000 each," General Calles told a group of newspapermen recently. "In view of the success with which these small craft were used during the war, I believe that it would be advisable for the Mexican government to buy three for the Atlantic service and three for the Pacific."

General Calles and his staff were at work on a plan for universal military service, with which it is expected that the determined figure of 50,000 soldiers can be raised.

"I believe that the best military age is from 21 to 23 years," the war minister said. "At this age men are least selfish and best able to get along with each other, regardless of the walks of life from which they come."

"In the meanwhile," General Calles added, "mustering out of troops is progressing briskly and thousands of soldiers are being returned to civil life, where the government believes that they can best serve their country by tilling the farm and manning the factories. The privates and the higher officers are co-operating in the movement. It is said, the only opposition coming from a few petty chiefs."
